Riding Resume

I have been riding seriously since 1997, competing internationally and with FEI ranking until 2006. At that time I attended Sweet Briar College, graduating with an Engineering degree in 2010. During my time there I competed for the college both individually and on the Show Jumping team. I also continued showing at AA rated shows on the East Coast and winning medal classes. At this point I began teaching, and selling horses, in addition to advancing my riding through clinics with Scott Evans; Joe Fargis; and London Grey. I was offered a riding position with Joe Fargis, Andras Szieberth, and several other trainers. In January 2010 I had to take a break from riding to undergo two knee surgeries. I began teaching riders and horses again in the summer of 2010, and riding post-surgery in June 2011.
